After 25 years of working in the International health care industry, Luciano Cattani is a well-respected figure in the industry. He has recently scaled back from his full time responsibilities as Group President, Corporate Office at Stryker Corporation, and currently dedicates his time more towards continuing to advance Stryker's capabilities in the government and public affairs arena. Cattani joined Stryker in 2001 as Senior VP Marketing and then proceeded to become President EMEA in October 2001 and significantly strengthened the European business. He became Group President International in 2005 and continued to build growth for the entire group. Prior to joining Stryker, Mr. Cattani spent over 20 years at Pfizer in various leadership roles and served as European VP Sales and Marketing, Howmedica, President/CEO Pfizer Italy and VP Southern Europe for Pfizer Pharmaceuticals. Prior to Pfizer, Luciano Cattani spent many years working with Exxon Italy.
