"Contributing to overcoming the disparity in cancer treatment access is one of our most important priorities, both from a business and sustainability perspective."

Laurent Leksell
Chairman of the Board
Elekta’s disease focus is the care of cancer and neurological diseases and over the years we have grown to become a key industrial partner in radiation therapy to healthcare providers globally. Radiotherapy is the most cost-effective treatment option for cancer and has developed from being a relatively imprecise technology to becoming more surgical and a safer treatment solution. It is also moving from being a therapy into the new field of radiation medicine at large. This has increased the clinical importance of radiation therapy.

Even though a communicable disease, Covid-19, rightfully claimed everyone’s attention in 2020, the long-term challenges for global health care systems remains the three big families of non-communicable diseases: diabetes, cancer and cardiovascular disease. Cancer is now the second most common cause of death globally and the leading cause of death in high-income countries. In addition, there is a huge discrepancy in the treatment around the world. While around 80 percent of the global radiotherapy and cancer care capacity is in high income countries, only one fifth of the population is. Contributing to overcoming the disparity in treatment access is one of our most important priorities, both from a business and sustainability perspective. During the year, the Board has strengthened its grip on sustainability issues. Elekta’s sustainability agenda is now prepared by two board committees: the Audit Committee for governance, compliance and risk related issues and the Compensation and Sustainability Committee for all remaining sustainability aspects.

We have a strong board at Elekta, with an openness and engagement in the discussions that I appreciate. As we cover all important strategic areas for the company during a fiscal year, all directors have a deep understanding of the company – its markets, organization and technology. This year, aside from technology and innovation, we gave extra focus to the effects of the reorganization and management development and succession matters, as well as to sustainability management.

With the resignation of Dr Richard Hausmann, the Board decided to let Richard leave immediately to make sure that we keep up the momentum during the search for a permanent new CEO. We are convinced that Gustaf Salford and the executive management team has the engagement and leadership qualifications to drive Elekta’s performance even in these challenging pandemic times. Elekta’s competent team will drive our growth and continue focusing on innovations to improve radiotherapy for the benefit of all cancer patients. On behalf of all members of the Board, I would like to thank Richard Hausmann for his contributions in Elekta during his four years as CEO.

We still do not know the full impact of Covid-19. Short-term economically, it will be a historically severe shock to the world economy, but it is also met by unprecedented stimulatory measures. Until we can foresee the full effect of the pandemic, we need to make sure that Elekta continues to improve its competitiveness and has the financial strength to do so. Based on this, the Board of Directors proposes to the AGM a dividend in line with the minimum level of the dividend policy. However, Elekta has a strong financial position, which is why the Board of Directors may call for an Extraordinary General Meeting to propose an additional dividend to bring the total dividend in line with the previous year’s level.

Even if the impact of Covid-19 is difficult to predict, for now we do know that the need for cancer care will continue to grow. Elekta makes sustainable and meaningful contributions to further improve the effectiveness and global access to cancer care and Precision Radiation Medicine.

The compliance function has further during the year introduced a training program called “Compliance Days”. Responsibility

Internal audit is an independent function that conducts independent and objective assurance, review and consulting activities. The scope of the internal audit function encompasses the examination and evaluation of the adequacy and effectiveness of Elekta’s governance, process steering, risk management and internal control processes, as well as the quality of performance in carrying out assigned responsibilities to achieve the Group’s objectives as part of the assurance activity. The work also encompasses consulting activities and advisory support in the same areas. The internal audit function works in accordance with the guidelines for the internal audit function adopted by the board.

The internal audit function is appointed by, and reports to, the audit committee and the Board of Directors. The Chief Audit Executive, who functionally reports to the audit committee and administratively to the Chief Financial Officer, supervises the internal audit function.

Work during the year

The work of the internal audit function has included, based on an established and by the audit committee approved internal audit plan, audits of subsidiaries as well as quality reviews of processes encompassed by the global internal control program. Furthermore, statistical follow-up reporting of the internal control program to executive management, the audit committee and the Board of Directors has been carried out as well as consulting in connection with the update of the internal control program. The internal audit function has during the year coordinated the external audit as well as managed the audit committee meetings.

Risk management and internal control

Risk management, governance and internal control are key components of Elekta’s strategy and management processes. Elekta’s Board of Directors assumes the overall responsibility for establishing an efficient control of risk management, governance and internal control. The responsibility for maintaining the control systems is delegated to the president and CEO, who is assisted by the executive management, other operational managers and coworkers. Functions responsible for risk management, governance and internal control continuously report the current status directly to the Board of Directors and/or the audit committee.

Elekta’s personnel will represent the first level of control environment in their day to day work and in their management teams. To facilitate the work there are policies, guidelines and boundaries set by the executive management on behalf of the Board of Directors. Boundaries should ensure that no individual employee accepts a disproportionate portion of risk or to little risk which may result in missed opportunities and ultimately Elekta not achieving the strategic goals. All employees have the obligation to obtain an appropriate level of understanding within their roles and responsibilities and carry out their responsibilities correctly and completely.

Employees are the owners of all risks related to their business operations and are expected to manage these by maintaining good internal control and follow risk and control procedures. Every employee is expected to comply with internal policies, procedures and applicable laws and regulations.

The next stage of control environment lays within the support functions such as finance, IT, HR, compliance, regulatory affairs and quality and legal that supports and monitors the first level of controls.

The final stage of control environment is the internal audit function that provides independent and objective audits, assurance and advisory support to the management on governance, preparation of decisions, risk management and internal control.

The process for risk management and internal control applies for the entire Group, including business lines, regions, functions, management, coworkers, processes and technology. The Elekta risk work is focused on identifying and managing strategic risks, operational risks, legal and regulatory risks, external risks and market- and financial risks. Risk assessments are being completed and updated continuously in order to identify risks that can impact the achievement of strategy goals, legal compliance and regulations and financial reporting.

The Board of Directors also continuously manage decisions that include risk management, for example, within the Elekta strategy and management processes and business management. Find out more about risk management in the board’s report on risk management and internal control over financial reporting on page 73. A description of how other risks are being managed can be found in the risks and risk management section on page 30.
Report on risk management and internal control over financial reporting

The Board of Directors’ report on risk management and internal control over financial reporting has been prepared in accordance with the annual accounts act and the Swedish corporate governance code, and constitutes an integral part of the corporate governance report. The external financial reporting has been prepared in accordance with laws and regulations as well as internal steering documents. A structure is provided through which Elekta’s objectives and the means of attaining these objectives and monitoring performance are set. The objectives reflect choices made on how the Group seeks to create, preserve and realize value for its stakeholders.

Objective

The Elekta Group is governed and controlled based on the distribution of rights and responsibilities, including decision-making, among different corporate bodies according to laws and regulations as well as internal steering documents. A structure is provided through which Elekta’s objectives and the means of attaining these objectives and monitoring performance are set. The objectives reflect choices made on how the Group seeks to create, preserve and realize value for its stakeholders. Governance is twofold; it concerns both effectiveness and accountability. Effectiveness is measured by performance, and accountability includes all issues surrounding disclosure and transparency.

Objective setting is a prerequisite necessary to internal control and a key part of the Elekta strategy and management processes. Therefore, Elekta’s corporate governance encompasses both the strategy and management processes, outlining the establishment of both long-term objectives and strategies with at least a three-year perspective and short-term objectives and plans with a one-year perspective, and the risk management and internal control process.

Control environment

Important elements of the control environment applicable for Elekta’s financial reporting are the financial guide, including the accounting policy, reporting instructions, authorization policy and finance policy. In addition, there are other important elements of the control environment for financial reporting such as the communication policy and processes and work instructions to be found in group-wide steering documents and in the Elekta business management system.

Risk assessment is carried out continuously throughout the year in order to identify risks that can affect the possibility to reach targets set in relation to the strategy, the business, reporting and compliance.

Risk assessment

Risk assessment includes identifying any risk that the qualitative characteristics of useful financial information, according to IFRS, may not be fulfilled or the financial reporting assertions may not be supported. Risk assessment criteria include occurrence, completeness, accuracy, cut-off, classification, existence, rights and obligations, and valuation for profit and loss and balance sheet items in the financial reporting as applicable, but also information processing relating to input, processing and recording of data. A risk assessment regarding internal control over financial reporting is performed once a year and covers profit and loss and balance sheet items in the financial reporting and related areas and processes. The work is documented in a risk map and included in risk and control matrices (RACMs) per area and process.

Control activities

Control activities mitigate the risks identified to achieve set objectives through adherence to risk tolerance levels in terms of globally defined minimum internal control requirements over financial reporting. The control activities are documented in RACMs per area, process and risk.

Control activities are aimed at preventing errors and irregularities from occurring and/or detecting errors and irregularities that may have occurred. Control activities can be manual or automated, such as authorizations and approvals, verifications, reconciliations, and business performance reviews, or a combination of the two.

Control activities comprise the following areas and processes:

- Entity-level controls – over the control environment
- General IT controls – over IT system components, processes and data for a given IT environment including logical access, program change management, backup and recovery
- Process controls – over processes such as order recognition, order to cash, revenue recognition, purchase to pay, inventory, payroll and financial statement close.
The globally defined minimum internal control requirements over financial reporting comprise entity level controls that are regulated through Elekta’s steering documents at Group-wide level, the business management system and internal control frameworks of standard controls that include general IT controls and uniform process controls for all Elekta companies and locally defined controls where necessary. The controls included in the internal control framework are documented in RACMs as standard models for all entities and then specifically for each individual entity. All controls in the internal control framework are based on risk assessments of financial flows that impact the financial reporting in general and more specifically for the individual entities.

Monitoring
Monitoring of internal control over financial reporting is carried out through ongoing evaluations, separate evaluations, or some combination of the two, to ascertain whether the five components of risk management and internal control are present and functioning; control environment, risk assessment, control activities, monitoring as well as information and communication.

Ongoing evaluations are routine operations, built into processes. Monitoring takes place on a real-time basis by operational managers and personnel and periodically by management at different levels of the Group, and the audit committee and the board, and includes for example monitoring of the following:

• Business and financial performance
• Order bookings and revenue recognition
• Compliance reports from the compliance function
• Internal audit reports from the QA and RA functions related to, for example, the quality system and regulatory compliance
• Internal audit planning
• Internal audit reports from the internal audit function
• External audit reports from the external auditor

Special evaluations may be performed through:

• Periodic reviews of whether risk management and internal control are operating as intended by financial managers and general management at local, regional, business area and Group level as applicable
• Internal control compliance confirmation questionnaire, a tool for local management to report on the status of effective design and operating effectiveness of the globally defined minimum internal control requirements over financial reporting documented in RACMs
• Internal audit according to the internal audit plan

Instructions and budget approvals of internal control for financial reporting are conducted by the audit committee on behalf of the Board of Directors and require supporting documentation in the form of presentation of status, progress and solutions, as well as supporting appendices such as internal audit reports and internal control reports. Status, progress and solutions for internal control over financial reporting are discussed at the audit committee meeting and instructions are documented and, where approvals are required, approvals are performed and documented accordingly. The audit committee subsequently briefs the board of directors at the next board meeting and provides supporting documentation for discussion and approval.

Information and communication
Information and communication regarding risk management and internal control over financial reporting relates to both internal and external information and communication.

Internal information about important internal steering documents for risk management and internal control over financial reporting, including RACMs, as well as the communication policy and processes, work instructions and other relevant information in the Elekta business management system, are channeled down the organization and communicated to relevant personnel on the Group’s intranet. Internal information regarding the status of the effective design and operating effectiveness of risk management and internal control over financial reporting are channeled up the organization, based on the result of the monitoring, in order for management at different levels to be able to take corrective actions as necessary. The President and CEO and the Chief Audit Executive in turn inform the audit committee and the board, respectively, of the results of the monitoring in order for them to be able to fulfill their oversight responsibility. This communication normally takes place at the ordinary audit committee meetings and board meetings, respectively.

Elekta provides the financial markets and other stakeholders with continuous external information and communication regarding the Group’s and the Company’s financial performance and position in accordance with the communication policy. External information and communication regarding financial reporting is provided in the form of:

• Interim reports, year-end reports and annual reports
• Press releases on news and events that may significantly affect the Group’s valuation and future prospects
